

President Fillmore's Cousin a Distinguished Clergyman

Rev. Corydon Millard, who is a first cousin of the late President Fillmore, and a prominent clergyman, having served as chaplain of the Fourth U. S. Heavy Artillery, has just returned to Milwaukee from an extended trip abroad, during which he did valuable missionary work. He says that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the best tonic for old age and declining years.

REV. CORYDON MILLARD.

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sufficient," and I must say it has proved a great tonic and stimulant. It has strengthened my system and makes me feel younger. I will always recommend it to any one who is run down and weak, either from disease or old age. When you visit the city of Milwaukee be sure to come and see me."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It is the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price, $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

"FORTIFY HAWAII QUICK"

Remark of President Constructed to Mean Possible War With Japan.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 18.—"Fortify Hawaii, and fortify it quick," was the highly significant remark made by President Roosevelt to Senator Dooliver, of Iowa, that has renewed in Washington the talk of war with Japan. The President's utterance is regarded as an indication of the administration's apprehension and its anxiety to be prepared for any emergency that may arise.

Senator Dooliver had taken several members of the Iowa National Guard to the White House to be presented to the President. After expressing his delight at meeting the soldiers, and indicating his interest in the volunteers, Mr. Roosevelt called Senator Dooliver aside and in a audible whisper made the significant remark. What else he said to Mr. Dooliver along this line is not known, but the warlike Iowa soldiers were not long in telling Washington what they had overheard.

There is no doubting that the United States anticipates trouble with Japan, and the talk of war is no longer confined to the chronic alarmists. The sailing of the battleship fleet for the Pacific and many events of minor importance that have attracted little attention go to confirm the belief. President Roosevelt recently sent for Senator Flint, of California, and urged upon him the necessity of increasing the appropriation for the purchase of powder so as to have a large surplus ready on a moment's notice. The Senator agreed to support the measure provided none of it is stored in the Philippines, which he told the President, it would be impossible to save in the event of war with Japan.

In connection with Mr. Roosevelt's remark to Senator Dooliver it appears that the administration is exceedingly anxious to fortify Pearl Island at Honolulu and there establish a naval base. This has been a pet project for some time, but the agitation for haste is taken, as indicating that recent events have convinced the administration that war with Japan may be precipitated much more quickly than has been expected.

AT PEACE WITH POWERS

Japan's Premier Congratulates His Country on This Fact.

TOKIO, Jan. 18.—The Constitutionalists at a general meeting to-day passed resolutions supporting the government measure to be submitted to the diet. Marquis Saionji, the premier, in a speech emphasized the amicable relations between Japan and the powers. He said that the emigration problem was practically settled with Canada and that he confidently expected a satisfactory understanding with the United States.

ASK HALF MILLION; PROTECT THE CAPE

War Department Recommends $500,000 for the Cape Henry Fortifications.

MAKE ISLAND AND FORTIFY

Plan of Engineers to Make Defenses of Bay Entrance Impregnable.

Munsey Building, Times-Dispatch Bureau, Washington, D. C., Jan. 18. The War Department has recommended that $500,000 be appropriated for the fortification of Cape Henry, at the northern point of the entrance to Chesapeake Bay. Of course, the sum will hardly pay for the land on which it is proposed to erect the fortifications, but it is not expected that the government will be asked to pay anything like the enormous price demanded a year or two ago by the men who had purchased the property in anticipation of its being taken by the Federal government for the purpose indicated. Some of the Virginia members refused to urge the bill at that time, owing to the extravagant price asked for the property.

It is the plan of the army engineers to fortify the cape and at the same time build midway between Cape Henry and Cape Charles, to the north, an island on which fortifications will be erected. The latter proposition was first made when it was found that estate speculators were holding the land on the cape at such an exorbitant figure, but it has since been adopted as part of the plan of fortifications. The island would be constructed of sand pumped from the bottom of the bay surrounding the cape, enclosing the site of the island. Concrete would be mixed with the sand, of course, and the result would be a structure whose stability would never be brought into doubt.

Danger Is From the West.
It will not be as easy to get an appropriation for fortifications on our Eastern coastline as it would have been heretofore. A hundred years and more, the general government has planned to prevent successful attacks on our Eastern seaboard. Europe was looked upon as the only continent from which we need fear trouble at any time in our history. But Japan is now regarded as the most dangerous nation, so far as provoking war is concerned, and her sudden rise to the dignity of a serious menace to America finds our Western coast very inadequately protected. The War Department is devoting its whole attention to fortifying the Pacific coast, so far as the subject of fortifications extends. The East may have to take care of itself for a time.

For Norfolk Harbor.
While there will hardly be a river and harbor bill at this session of Congress, there will probably be what is known as the "Baltimore bill," that is, one which will provide for emergency appropriations and for the protection of work already undertaken.

Representative Maynard, of the Second and Virginia District, said to-day he hoped to be able to have incorporated in this small bill an appropriation to be expended in improving and extending the anchorage grounds off Lambert's Point. The appropriation made last year for dredging the channel at twice as large a cost as necessary, and Mr. Maynard will seek to have the balance expended in providing more room for vessels at anchor in that locality.

Deputy Clerk at Big Stone Gap.
Representative Slemmons, of the Ninth Virginia District, has introduced a bill which, if it passes, will provide a plan for a good Republican of his district. The bill provides that the clerk of the United States District and Circuit Courts at Abingdon to appoint a deputy, who shall reside at Big Stone Gap, where sessions of the court are held.

Representative A. D. James, of Kentucky, Republican, introduced a bill to-day which seeks to allow to clerks of Federal courts, when they reach the age of seventy years, and have served continuously for thirty-five years, a pension, equaling annually the amount of fees and other emoluments of their office for the year preceding their retirement. He says the object of the bill is to "promote efficiency in the public service," but some may be so uncharitable as to call it "a bill to pension the man who refuses to be prized loose from a public office."

Bills, By Mr. Lammeter.

Mr. Lammeter has introduced the following bills:
To carry out the findings of the court of claims in cases in which church property had been damaged by United States troops during the War between the States and immediately thereafter, as follows: Smith's Grove Episcopal Church, Dinwiddie county, $800; Merchants' Hope Episcopal Church, Prince George county, $1,150; Methodist Episcopal Church, Gary's, Prince George county, $1,000; church at Reams Station, Dinwiddie county, $800.

Saunders and Floyd County.
Representative Saunders, of the Fifth Virginia District, has returned from Richmond, where he has been all of this week. It is presumed that the proposition to change the lines of his district by adding Floyd county, now in the Sixth, moved him to spend a day or two with the legislators. He says he has no objection to representing the people of Floyd in Congress if the Legislature shall decide to make that county a part of his district.

Democratic Hold at Scottsville.
Scottsville, the home of Senator Martin, will continue to have a Democratic postmaster. Representative Bascom Smith said to-day that Postmaster Grant would be reappointed. There are not more than two Republicans who receive mail at the Scottsville office. Besides, it is a courtesy, which is observed in the breach in recent years, to allow Senators of the party opposed to the one in power to have one of their own political affiliation dispense the mail at their home towns.

Blackburn Is Not Seeking.
Ex-Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, of Kentucky, who retired from the Senate last year to accept a position on the Isthmian Canal Commission, was encountered in the marble room at the Senate end of the Capitol by The Times-Dispatch correspondent to-day. It was suggested that the former Senator might have his name presented to the Legislature at Frankfort in the senatorial contest, which has reached the deadlock stage.

"Not through any suggestion of mine," said the picturesque old veteran, "I am out of Kentucky politics—for good it looks like."
